

Engine bugs plague area racers

Kettering's Charlie Fyffe was the only one of six area entrants to return from Eastwood Park's Eastern Divisional Power Boat Championships wearing a smile. His craft, "Chuck's Joy," took second in 145 class competition. Gene Whipp, Joe Krietzer and Phil Kunz had little reason to share "Chuck's joy." The owners of "The Mogul," "Little Joe," and "The Wonder Warthog" were forced to bow out of the competition early due to varying degrees of engine trouble. Other local entrants in the wet and wild affair were Bill Little ("Little Wide Track") and a father-son team of Jim Davis Jr. and Sr. ("Coyote" and "Warrior"). The senior Davis piloted his "Warrior" to a sixth-place finish in the 145 class.
